

Doctoral education at SLU – trends, challenges and new initiatives

Prof. Ylva Hillbur

The presentation gives a brief introduction to the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU) and covers aspects of internal organization, research quality, strategic research priorities, and national and international networks and platforms. This is followed by a more detailed description of the doctoral education program at SLU, its structure and management. Finally, some trends, challenges and new initiatives regarding strategic recruitment of PhD students will be discussed.